Methodist Institution Presents Program Given by the Clubs.

THREE

GIRLS GRADUATE

Plans Being Made for Summer Outings, the Young People Helping.

On last Friday evening the clubs the Methodist Institute gave an entertainment that marked their close for he year. The most elaborate feature program was the presentation the old fairy tale, "The Three Wishes," The three young people who took part in this showed thorough

Each club had some special part in the program, and in every case the feature given was descriptive of the work of the club. The kitchen garden class first sang a song, using wash tubs and boards in motion, and then they played a game, using the clothes line rope. This class has met once a week for nine months and has learned sweeping, dusting, bed-making, lamp cleaning, scrubbing, washing, froning, ire building, sctub they had fourteen lessons in cooking. The cooking lessons will be continued next year.

The boys industrial club recited several verses from the sixth chapter of Ephesians, and sang the club song. "Solders of the King." Six of the hoys then gave a dumb beli drill. The privilege of taking part in this drill was a reward for good behavior and regular attendance. Twelve of the sewing school girls recited Scripture verses, forming the acrostic. These verses had been learned by the entire school, and it was merely a selected number who recited them. Then eight little girls, one of whom acted an "mother," played a sewing game.

Diplomas Presented.

The mest important feature of the program to the children was the presentation of diplomas to four girls who had completed the work of the industrial department. This work included the kitchen garden course, about twenty lessons in cooking, a limited amount of handleraft work, such as burnt wood, pierced brass, stenciling and embroidery, and a graded course in sewing. The girls made the entire suits of clothes which they wore at the graduation. Each of these girls has been attending these classes at the institute for two years or more, iwice a week. The purpose of all of this industrial work is to fit these girls and boys for their future work in home-making.

The sewing school has been one of the most important and successful features of the club work at the institute. It has been in charge of the deconess, Miss Seliers, assisted by Miss Roberts and Miss Roberts are graduates of the Methodist Training School in Nashville, Tenn... and have had a special cour

Have Summer Outings.

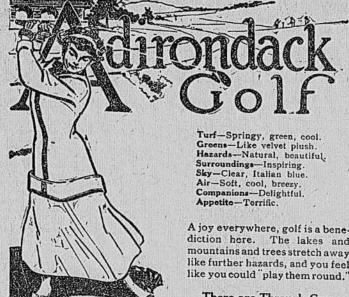

While the clubs will not come together in weekly meetings for the next three months, quite a good deal of outing work is being planned for the summer. A plenie will be given the symmer. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., June 7.—Former Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, who is Governor Thomas J. Jarvis, who is spending several days in the city, is outspoken in his oxceptions to Governor mor Woodrow Wilson as possible presidential timber. He thinks the New Jersey professor and Governor is not adhering to old-line Domocratic principles. He deetdedly prefers Judson Harman as the Democratic nominee for the presidency, and believes that Wilson's stand for the initiative and referendum has especially weakened him. Governor Jarvis is advocating Charles B. Aycock for the United States Senate to succeed. Lumber Bridge Wins.

Company I, Second Regiment, Lumber Bridge, won in the contest held here the past two days for honors in the championship target practice, participated in by the teams that made the highest scores in each of the three rifle range shoots held at Ruleigh, Goldsboro and Gastonia, and in which Raleigh won the Dupont silver cup. The cup was to be awarded to the winner of the highest score at the championship shoot just held, but there is a question raised as to the personnel of all the three teams not having been the same that they were at the other shoots, so that this may result in the cup being retained by the Raleigh company. In the shoot just closed, Lumber Bridge made 1,169, out of a possible 1,500. The next highest was Asheville, with 1,167.

Raleigh's score was 1,111. The win-

Officers left to-day for Portsmouth to deliver to the naval authorities Oscar O, Cothrell, who is wanted for deserting from the training ship Franklin in 1909. He was sentenced to the roads in this county for selling liquor, and his identity has been discovered since his arrest. It seems that he went first to Culpeper, Va., after deserting the Franklin. There he married a girl and went with her to Richmond and deserted hor.

Adjutant-General R. L. Leinster, of the North Carolina National Guard, made an order to-day for the disbanding of Company K, Third Infantry, Weldon, on account of the company having failed to meet the requirements at the time of the last inspection, last February, by Inspector-General Thomas Stringfield and Lieutenant M. A. Well, of the Soventeenth Infantry, United States Army. M. M. Drake was captain of the company just disbanded. There are ten applications on file from as many towns to be allowed to form a company to take the place of the Weldon company. Two of these are said to be desirably located to succeed Weldon. However, it is probable that there will be no action as to filling the vacancy until after the encampments this summer.

Conferences of Clergy.

The Wednesday morning and afteracon sessions of the second St. Mary's conference of the Episcopal clorgy and prominent laity of North and South Carolina was characterized by a number of strong addresses bearing on important phases of church work. This forenoon there were addresses up Rev. J. F. Mallett, of Sallsbury, on "An Open Door; or, Filling the Ranks of the Ministry," and by Rev. Liewellyn L. Caley, of Philadelphia, on "The Teacher: His Personality and Practice." In the early afternoon there was an address by Eugene M. Camp, of New York, on "The Church's Missionary Tasks and Progress." To-night there was an address by Eugene M. Caliborne. The conference is to continue through Friday.
